Stories From The Heart

DRIVERS

Don S

“I have been delivering Meals on Wheels in East Contra Costa County for thirteen years. I’m retired and drive a regular route on Thursdays and fill in anytime I’m needed. When the meals are delivered to the Brentwood Senior Center, we carefully check to make sure we have the right meal for each client. Some of our clients are unable to come to the door, have just been released from the hospital and/or have memory issues. We get to know our clients and are patient if they come to the door slowly. Sometimes I think we are the only person they speak to that day. They seem to enjoy the banter back and forth as much as I do.”

Tammy

“I have been a driver for over twelve years. I do the same route every Thursday so I am able to really get to know our homebound seniors. They are a wealth of information. I can’t even begin to tell you how much joy and happiness they bring to my life. Just seeing them smile and light up when I deliver their meal makes my day. It is such a very rewarding experience to know that we are helping deliver meals to seniors in need and that we were able to talk to seniors who might otherwise be alone.”

CLIENTS

Joanne

“I appreciate Meals on Wheels so very much. The meals are nourishing and nutritious. I’ve gained 5 pounds since I’ve been home from the hospital. And Meals on Wheels is so easy to get in touch with. The meals are delicious; I look forward to them every day. The drivers are wonderful and friendly. They bring the food in because I’m in a wheelchair. My favorite meal, although I like them all, is meatloaf and mashed potatoes. Oh, and I love the vegetables. I eat everything.”

Jose Luis

“I’m my Dad’s full-time caretaker, 24/7. He’s 93 and has dementia. I’ve been his caretaker for 6 years. I owe him so much. He emigrated from Mexico and has had quite a life. Now he is my life. He loves your good healthy meals; he gobbles them up. He can digest them easily, too. We also appreciate the emergency packs. My Dad especially loves the colors of the food. When he sees his meal, he says, ‘Look, how beautiful! They look so fresh and healthy.’ My Dad doesn’t need to take vitamins since the meals are so nutritious. The drivers are the nicest people. All of them. I love the stories on your Facebook page, I read them all the time. We’re so grateful to Meals on Wheels and want to thank you from the heart.”

Simple Rules for Healthy Eating

Diet fads come and go, but sensible eating is timeless. March is National Nutrition Month, and this year's theme is "Savor the Flavor of Eating Right," which encourages everyone to take time to enjoy food traditions and appreciate the pleasures, great flavors and social experiences food can add to our lives.

How, when, why and where we eat are just as important as what we eat. Develop a mindful eating pattern that includes nutritious and flavorful foods – that's the best way to savor the flavor of eating right!

In case you're still interested in learning the fundamentals of healthy eating, here are 5 guidelines to consider:

- 1. Get as much of your nutrition as possible from a variety of completely unprocessed foods. These include fruits and vegetables. But they also include meat, fish, poultry and eggs that haven't been processed. In other words, when buying food at the market, focus on things that have not been cooked, prepared or altered in any way. Brown rice over white rice. Whole fruit instead of fruit juices.
- 2. Eat as much home-cooked food as possible. Eating at home allows you to avoid processed ingredients more easily. It allows you full control over what you eat and allows you to choose the flavors you prefer.
- 3. When you do eat out, try to eat at restaurants that follow the same rules. Ideally, you should eat at restaurants that are creating all of their items from completely unprocessed foods. Lots and lots of restaurants do.
- 4. Drink mostly water, but some alcohol, coffee and other beverages are fine. You can find a study to show that everything either prevents or causes cancer – alcohol and coffee included. The preponderance of evidence supports the inclusion of a moderate consumption of most beverages.
- 5. Eat with other people, especially people you care about, as often as possible. This has benefits even outside those of nutrition. It will make you more likely to cook. It will most likely make you eat more slowly. It will also make you happy.

All of these guidelines are subtly trying to get you to be more conscious of what you're eating. It's far too easy these days to consume more than you think you are, or more than you really need, especially when eating out. People have varying nutritional requirements, and it's important for everyone to listen to their bodies to know when they should eat, and when they should stop.

These few basics are all you need to make good food decisions. Enjoy!

Meals on Wheels of Contra Costa and CC Senior Nutrition Staff share their favorite healthy seasonal recipes

Marti likes Chicken Bone Broth because: Bone broth is rich in minerals to strengthen the immune system and support healthy digestion. Bone broth also contains collagen to strengthen tendons, joints, ligaments, bone, and skin.

The collagen in bone broth will help heal the lining of the gut to relieve heartburn, GERD, and other types of intestinal inflammation. On top of that, collagen will support healthy skin to make it supple and strong to reduce the appearance of cellulite.

You can make bone broth at home and even use it in your next cleanse to give your body ample nourishment. The glycine in bone broth will detoxify the body of harmful chemicals, improve sleep, and boost memory and performance.

- 3 cloves garlic
- 1 Tablespoon chopped fresh parsley
- 1 inch ginger root, roughly chopped
- ½ teaspoon sea salt
- ½ teaspoon of apple cider vinegar
- 3 unpeeled carrots with green tops if possible, cut in thirds
- 1 medium unpeeled onion, cut in chunks
- 4 ribs celery, cut in thirds
- 2 cloves garlic, unpeeled
- 1 cup packed parsley
- 2 red potatoes, quartered
- 1 large yam or sweet potato, cut in chunks

- *3" piece of kombu seaweed (discard after use)
- 1 bay leaf
- 6 black peppercorns
- 2 allspice or juniper berries

Optional Herbs

- *½ ounce (15 grams) dried sliced reishi mushrooms (a small handful)
- *1 ounce (30 grams) dried codonopsis root (about ¼ cup)
- *1 ounce (30 grams) astragalus root slices (a handful)

1. Wash all vegetables well, but don't peel.

THANK YOU!

to our 1,000+ donors who have supported Meals on Wheels of Contra Costa for over a decade and, in so doing, have had a major impact on the lives of homebound elders in our community.

Every donation to Meals on Wheels helps homebound elders in our community to maintain their health and independence. Limited space prohibits our acknowledgement of each of our over 9,000 wonderful donors this past year. Thank you so much for each and every gift to help our homebound elders in need!

A Note From Paul

Imagine What It Would Be Like

Imagine what it would be like for 2,100 of our homebound elderly neighbors in Contra Costa County if it weren't for generous individuals like you, who helped us provide more than 395,000 nutritious daily meals delivered to them in their homes this past year.

The vast majority of our Meals on Wheels participants live below the basic "Elder Economic Security Standard" for our county, as determined by the UCLA Center for Health Policy Research, which means they would be forced to choose between paying for their rent, utilities, critical prescriptions, or life sustaining nutritious food, were it not for your generous help.

Our Meals on Wheels participants cannot thank you directly, so I just want to once again thank you on their behalf for your caring and generous help that allows 2,100 nutritionally at-risk homebound elders in our county to maintain their health and independence, and remain living in the comfort and security of their own homes.
